

Congratulations

UFV 2015/16 GRADUATES!

ABOUT OUR CEREMONY, PROGRAM, AND SERVICES

Each ceremony takes about two hours to complete. To keep disruptions to a minimum, we ask for graduates to stay for the entire ceremony and ask their guests to remain seated during the ceremony. Please turn cell phones to vibrate.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Each graduate will have two photos taken of them by Artona Photography: one as they shake hands with the President, and one as they exit the stage. After the ceremony, family members and friends will have photo opportunities with their graduate at the venue.

Since professional photographs will be available, family members and guests are encouraged to remain in their seats — relax and enjoy the ceremony.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, all guests are invited to join graduates, faculty, and staff at an informal reception on the concourse of Abbotsford Centre. Light refreshments will be served.

REGALIA (GOWNS)

Graduating students and faculty are reminded to return their gowns following the ceremony and reception.

SERVICES

Both prior to and following the ceremony, you will find the following services on the concourse:

- UFV Bookstore for alumni merchandise and graduation gifts;
- UFV Alumni Association for fresh-cut flowers, commemorative wine orders, Leader frames, Commencement t-shirts and more; and
- Concession for purchasing snacks and refreshments.

STUDENT RECOGNITION — WHAT THE SYMBOLS MEAN

Graduated with Distinction (*)

Graduated with Distinction recognizes those university students who have maintained a high academic standard throughout their course of studies. To be eligible, a student must:

(a) have completed all the program graduation requirements with a grade point average of at least 3.5 based on the credits earned while in the program with a semester GPA of at least 3.0 in the most recent semester in which at least one graded course was completed; or

(b) be in an entry-level Trades program and have an average of 90% or higher in all courses.

Recognition of Outstanding Achievement (+)

This list is composed of students in each department and recognizes academic excellence and outstanding performance in their program.

Graduation lists in this program were prepared before the ceremony, and may not be completely correct; names of some graduates may be missing. We will revise this document following the ceremonies and publish a digital version to ufv.ca/convocation. We apologize for any omissions.

In the event of a discrepancy between this program and the UFV graduation roll, the UFV graduation roll shall be taken as correct.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Ch'itóletsel (I thank you).

Convocation is a time of celebration, and a very special moment to recognize the achievements of you, our graduates.

I sincerely congratulate you and your families for your hard work and the happy results. We are so proud to have helped along your path of education. Learning is a lifelong journey for each of us, and we are honoured to have walked this important step together with you.

Thank you, families and supporters, for sharing your loved ones with us in their pursuit of higher education.

Knowledge is for sharing, and learning is forever. Unless you share what you've learned, your knowledge is not being used to its full potential. So go out and share, and keep learning, and together we will help create a better future for our community.

Our ceremonial drum, our gift to the university, sits prominently on the stage. I am happy to celebrate with you and proud that my people, the Stó:lō, have drummed you in.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Thank you for joining our celebration of the achievements of a remarkable group of people. In four ceremonies this spring we will award credentials to over 2,300 graduates of a wide variety of academic, applied, and professional programs.

Together, we applaud their talent, diligence, and successes. They have earned our respect and our faith in their ability to master whatever challenges come their way. We know they will use their knowledge, skill, and creativity not just for their own benefit but to enrich all of us and our communities, here and abroad.

Let us also use this occasion to show our gratitude to the dedicated and talented faculty and staff who are building our futures through their work with our students, and to thank the many volunteers, community leaders, patrons, and benefactors who support this noble work.

And finally, dear family and friends of our students, please know how much we value your encouragement and support. Together, we have much to celebrate and cherish.

UFV President and Vice-Chancellor

MESSAGE FROM THE UFV ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

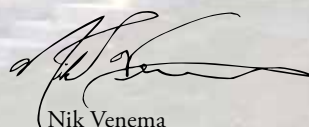

On behalf of the Board and over 35,000 alumni, congratulations to the Class of 2016!

You have been called here today to commemorate one of the most important milestones of your life's journey in the presence of your peers, mentors, family and friends. You have much to celebrate and much for which to be grateful.

As you move your tassel, you join a family of women and men changing lives and building community, locally and beyond, connected by a shared experience.

Today is not the end. Nor is it the beginning. It is the continuance of a story you have been writing every day of your life. As your story continues to unfold, know that it is within you to change our world. Bring light. Bring hope. Be curious. Be creative.

And, wherever your journey takes you, make sure to come back to this place. Your home. Your university.

OUR TRADITIONS

ACADEMIC DRESS

Traditional academic regalia consists of a gown, hood, and a mortarboard or cap and tassel. The wearing of robes became common in the middle ages. In monasteries and universities of the time, scholars wore the same long closed gowns as other medieval men. By the time the University of Cambridge was founded in the early 13th century, doctors in law and music were permitted to wear gowns in scarlet, purple, and red. Over time, garments and colours came to identify their university. Regalia colours often matched those of the university patron, or the colours of the city in which the university was located.

At UFV, regalia uses the university's rich green colours. There are vee-stoles for diploma and certificate graduates, while bachelor program graduates wear degree hoods. The coloured binding or trim on the edge of the degree hoods represents the faculty from which a student is graduating.

UFV HOOD TRIM COLOURS ARE:

White	Arts
Forest green	Professional Studies
Silver	Health Sciences
Pale green	Science
Emerald green	Alumni Association (blue cord) Board of Governors (silver cord) Senate (gold cord)
Royal blue velvet	Honorary degree
The addition of red cord	denotes a master's degree
Pale green on a green hood	UFV Faculty and Administration

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDALLION

UFV's medallion is worn by the Chancellor for very special occasions. The radiant diamonds in the design symbolize future alumni spreading their knowledge. The BC jade in the centre reflects our region's rich farming and ecological roots. This hand-crafted 18 kt white and yellow gold medallion was a gift to the university from Brian Lee of Abbotsford, BC.

STÓ:LŌ TERRITORY

UFV strives to be a place of learning that recognizes, respects, and includes indigenous ways of knowing. Our Fraser Valley campus locations are in the traditional territory of the Stó:lō Nation: people of the river.

THE TALKING STICK

The Talking Stick is a gift from the Stó:lō people to UFV, honouring all aboriginal people. The Talking Stick and aboriginal drummers lead the academic procession into Convocation and the recession after the ceremony.

The figures on the Talking Stick being used at UFV's Convocation are a wolf and a thunderbird. The wolf is symbolic of "the teacher" in Stó:lō territory, while the thunderbird represents the highest level of knowledge.

Most universities in the Commonwealth have a ceremonial mace, which accompanies the convocation ceremonies.

It is the staff of office, representing official authority (like the Speaker of the House of Commons).

UFV uses the Talking Stick rather than a mace for this purpose, thus bringing together a partnership between aboriginal and university traditions.

THE DRUM

The UFV Ceremonial Drum was presented to UFV by the Stó:lō people in 1997. The drum is decorated with the symbol of a thunderbird.

Judge Steven Point, who was then the chiefs' representative of the Stó:lō Nation, presented the drum for use at Convocation and other ceremonies.

"It's with great pride that I present a symbol of our fraternity, camaraderie, and loyalty," said Point at the presentation ceremony.

"We all spent nine months with our mothers, waiting to come in to the world, and we heard her heartbeat, and when we were born, we recognized our mothers by their heartbeat. When we make the sound of a drum it's a symbol of the heartbeat of our mother. It's a precious sound, it gathers people together, and we sing our songs.

"That's why we chose this symbol to present to you. We truly want to come together, and to have a good relationship with all of you. I hope and pray that it will always stand as a symbol of the affinity between our groups of people."

JOSHA HO

*Bachelor of Science
Math major, Physics major,
Engineering Physics diploma in Mechatronics*

Math, physics, and mechatronics are music to Josha Ho's mind.

On top of his double major, Josha is one of the first graduates from the Engineering Physics Diploma in Mechatronics program.

He chose the sciences partly because of his love of music. He plays the tuba, trombone, and string bass. Working as a sound technician at community events piqued his interest in the science behind the music.

"I spent time during high school mentoring kids and teaching them to love music," Josha says. "But I wanted to learn more about waves, acoustics, and the mathematics behind it all."

At UFV he mentored students and was elected president of the Physics Student Association where he landed funding, arranged guest speakers, and became an invaluable link between students and faculty.

Josha begins his Master of Science in experimental physics at the University of Saskatchewan in September and will work at the prestigious Canadian Light Source, where radiation is used to study everything from atoms to dinosaurs.

His advice to his fellow graduates, "Embrace community and prioritize people over any personal ambition."

Thurs, June 2, 3 pm

College of Arts

TERRILL SMITH

*Bachelor of Arts
Sociology/Anthropology major,
Art History extended minor,
TESL certificate*

Terrill Smith established an impressive record of contributing to the UFV community and beyond. He co-founded two journals, PIPE a student fine arts journal, and Summit: UFV Undergraduate Journal of the Arts which recognizes excellence in research and writing by students in the College of Arts.

Terrill maintained an overall grade point average of 4.12 and, as his nominator Jill Bain, Associate Professor in the College of Arts, states, "Terrill is one of the most committed, engaged, and highly intelligent students I have encountered in 20 plus years of teaching at two institutions."

Terrill has served his community as the UFV Student Representative on the Board of Directors of The Reach Gallery Museum in Abbotsford, and as a UFV Global Engagement Volunteer, Student Life Ambassador, and Student Representative on the College of Arts Council. He was the winner of UFV's 2014 Outstanding Achievement in Art History Award and 2016 Social, Cultural, and Media Studies Outstanding Achievement in Bachelor of Arts.

EACH YEAR UFV DEPARTMENTS NOMINATE STUDENTS TO PRESENT THE GRADUATE ADDRESS AT EACH CONVOCATION CEREMONY.

IT IS A GREAT HONOUR TO BE SELECTED TO REPRESENT THE GRADUATES OF 2016. WE CONGRATULATE THE FOLLOWING STUDENT SPEAKERS:

Fri, June 3, 9 am

Faculty of Professional Studies

THOMAS DAVIES

*Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours)
Accounting and Financial Management concentrations*

Thomas Davies is an excellent student (GPA of 4.09), prominent in university life, and active in his community.

He served as Student Union President (2015/2016), as a student member of the UFV Board of Governors, and as Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Alliance of Student Associations.

He is active in Chilliwack's arts community, and volunteers as the Production Manager for Secondary Characters Musical Theatre, as a Board of Trustees member for the Chilliwack Academy of Music and with the Chilliwack Cultural Centre. He is also a dedicated and accomplished soccer referee.

Thomas partnered the Student Union Society with the university to build UFV's first Student Union Building, now a central hub of the student community on campus. He earned the 2015 Chartered Accountants' Education Foundation Annual Scholarship, and the 2014 Rotary Club of Abbotsford Annual Leadership Award.

"Keep your passion, whatever that may be, as a part of your life," Thomas advises. "It's easy to be caught up in the world around you, without a sense of direction, but if you are doing what you love, you will find the way to love life."

Fri, June 3, 2 pm

Faculty of Applied & Technical Studies, Faculty of Access & Continuing Education, Faculty of Professional Studies (CIS & LIBIT)

THERESA (TERY) KOZMA

Hospitality Event Planning certificate

Tery Kozma's path has tilted mostly uphill. She was a foster child, then a single mom of two, and eventually found herself destitute and homeless at 40 — living in a tent with an abusive spouse.

Through the chaos, Tery always gave her time and energy to her community.

"Volunteering was my sanctuary. I really enjoyed the feeling of contributing to an event or a cause."

At 42 she turned her life around, working in the oil industry as a camp manager before fixing her sights on the Hospitality Event Planning program at UFV.

"Being the oldest woman in class was at times difficult and frustrating, but every day I would tell myself at the end of it all I will be certified in event planning."

Now she is looking forward to a career in event planning with non-profit organizations.

"I would tell any other mature person considering returning to school there will be many challenges, but accomplishing your goal and overcoming obstacles will give you a sense of pride and self-actualization — you will feel you can do anything."

RECOGNIZING EXCELLENCE

BETTY URQUHART COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

Presented annually to a group or individual who has made an extraordinary contribution to a community in the Fraser Valley region. Named in honour of Betty Urquhart, one of Fraser Valley College's first employees, for her volunteerism and dedication to her community.

ELIZABETH MELNICK

Elizabeth's Wildlife Centre,
Abbotsford

Some people say volunteering is for the birds — as in it's not worth doing. But for Elizabeth Melnick, volunteering is literally for the thousands of birds and other wild animals that she and her helpers save and rehabilitate each year.

Melnick has been taking in injured birds and animals at the non-profit Elizabeth's Wildlife Centre in Abbotsford for 30 years. She and her team of volunteers are kept busy daily caring for their guests until they are ready to be released to the wild.

For her devotion to those unable to help themselves, Melnick receives this year's Betty Urquhart Community Service award from UFV.

Melnick's mission combines her love of animals and her medical training — she is a 1993 graduate of UFV's nursing program. On any given day you can find robins, squirrels, opossums, pigeons, ducks, and bunnies at the shelter.

Melnick rarely takes a day off — "I'm lucky if I can get out to the store!" — and says receiving the award is a welcome boost.

"It's amazing, so heart-warming, that people would think to honour me. I do get tired, but hearing that news gave me such a wonderful boost of energy!"

But her real rewards come from the animals.

"When you get something that's unconscious and barely breathing, and you think of a way to warm it up, maybe put it on IV fluids, and then come back later and look and it's sitting up and perky... that's the best feeling ever," she says.

RESEARCH EXCELLENCE AWARD

Presented annually to a UFV faculty member whose research demonstrates innovation, mentorship, academic impact, and an interface for teaching and research.

DR. DEREK HARNETT

Faculty of Science, Physics

Derek Harnett's research explores things we can't see and that might not exist. As a world-recognized expert in quantum chromodynamics sum-rule methods, Harnett's work isn't easily understood by the layperson, but it is heralded within the physics community.

A committed member of UFV's Physics department since 2003, Harnett works with graduate students on calculations that take months to complete. His commitment to the next generation of physicists is rivaled only by his passion for his work — the practical implementation of which might not be known for hundreds of years.

"Derek has completely blown away my expectations of a university professor," says UFV science alumna Brie Mackovic. "His courses spark a whole new wave of thoughts and perception of our surroundings, literally changing the way students view the world."

Harnett has received UFV's inaugural Science Research Award, has more than a dozen publications to his name, and has participated in many UFV committees, including stints in both Science Advising and Senate. He has presented at conferences across North America and Europe, including at the prestigious QCD 12 conference in Montpellier, France.

TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Presented annually to an individual who has been nominated by faculty, staff, students, or alumni for demonstrating excellence in teaching.

DR. MARTHA DOW

College of Arts
Social, Cultural & Media Studies

If you're going to take a seat in Dr. Martha Dow's sociology classroom, be prepared to be an engaged and active participant. She wants students' minds to be stretched, shifted, and challenged. She wants students to contribute to the collective learning of everyone present, including herself.

"I try to create a community of learners. I truly believe we can change students' lives and they can then go change the lives of others."

She is so determined to have an impact on her students' lives, that she offers them a guarantee.

"I tell them, 'If your mind hasn't shifted at all by the end of the course, I will pay for your course.' Nobody has ever taken me up on it.

"I take students on a journey through the material, drawing on current events for examples. What we're doing here is education for citizenship."

Dow is also engaged in research, community participation, and service work, all of which feeds into her courses.

"A lot of students get pressure about what they can do with a sociology degree. I try to make sociology come alive for them and show them that in my work I am a real live sociologist in action. I just love to see the light bulbs going off in students' heads."

Nominating student Robyn Mooney, has high praise for Dow.

"Martha is the best teacher I've ever had. She presents course material in a way that is both easy to understand and incredibly engaging. She takes an interest in her students and makes efforts to customize coursework in a way that works best for each individual."

PROFESSOR AND LIBRARIAN EMERITI AWARDS

The Emeritus designation is an honour bestowed on retired faculty and librarians recognized for their service to the University of the Fraser Valley. It is awarded by the Board of Governors on the recommendation of Senate.

THIS YEAR THE UNIVERSITY RECOGNIZES:

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

DOCTOR OF LAWS

HALLDOR BJARNASON

ADVOCATE FOR PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES RECEIVES UFV HONORARY DEGREE

Halldor Bjarnason knows all about overcoming barriers. The cerebral palsy he was born with affects his movement and his speech. It crushed his dream of becoming a firefighter, a profession for which he still cares deeply.

Halldor was a bright child, and his mother fought to get him into regular school in an era when children with disabilities were often segregated.

He excelled and eventually became a lawyer. But even that wasn't easy.

Law school at Queen's University went well, but he had a hard time finding a firm to take him on full time after articling. Undaunted, he built his own practice in Vancouver, specializing in estate issues affecting families with dependents with disabilities.

Along the way, Bjarnason became an elite athlete, competing with the Canadian National Disabled Cycling Team, including at the 1998 and 1992 Paralympics in Seoul and Barcelona. In Seoul, he set the 1500m tricycle sprint world record and won the gold medal.

He's not working for the glory, and was surprised to hear that he'd been chosen for this recognition.

"I'm both delighted and honoured to be receiving this honorary doctorate from the University of the Fraser Valley," he notes. "It is a pleasure to work within the community — being able to help others is a gift unto itself. However, there's something special about having others recognize your efforts — it confirms that maybe you're not as crazy as you sometimes think you are when putting in the long hours."

Bjarnason has now been a practising lawyer for 25 years, acting as an advocate within the system for people with disabilities, including lawyers. He has a thriving practice with Access Law Group. As the founding chair of the Law Society of BC's Disability Working Group, he led the creation of reports about barriers to equality for lawyers with disabilities. He has mentored high school students and law students with disabilities.

Bjarnason's work, in his profession and in the community, has earned him both a Canadian Bar Association Community Service Award and the Coast Foundation's Courage to Come Back Award.

Alongside his professional work, as a single parent, Bjarnason leads his young son Elliot's Cub Scout pack, and serves on his school's parent advisory committee. He volunteers with the City of Vancouver's Emergency Social Services program and serves as a team and advisory council member of the Vancouver Fire Rescue Service's Neighbourhood Emergency Assistance Team.

DOCTOR OF LETTERS

LINDA FRIMER

FRIMER'S HEARTFELT ART INSPIRES UFV HONORARY DEGREE

For Linda Frimer, art is a form of reconciliation, and creativity a means of expressing the love within us all.

The Vancouver artist has been sharing her art to heal, help worthy causes, and reconcile nature and culture for more than 35 years.

Frimer connected with nature early on, and it informed her artistic development from the start.

"I always had a pencil in hand and was allowed to roam the forest freely as a young girl," she recalls.

Born a few years after World War II ended, she heard the adults in her Jewish family whispering about the devastation of the Holocaust. Even decades before the war, her family faced hatred and expulsion.

"I was too young to understand it all, but I knew something very bad had happened. I was a highly sensitive child, and absorbed the pain and anguish that others were carrying. I turned to nature for healing and reconciliation. I would enter the forest with a sense of awe and wonder. It's what unites all people."

Compelled by a desire to reflect the pain of her people and work towards healing, she created many works of art examining this theme. She co-founded the Geshar (Hebrew for bridge) Holocaust Project, a multidisciplinary group that helped Holocaust survivors and their children express their traumatic experiences through art, words, and therapy.

Her connection with Aboriginal people was formalized when she befriended the Cree artist George Littlechild. The two felt an immediate connection through their interest in incorporating family and history into their art and their use of vibrant colours, and collaborated together on multiple projects.

Her affinity to nature has led to her support of many environmental causes.

"I love my environmental work because I know that's where I can make a difference. I am committed to helping preserve endangered species and ecosystems as well as helping people at risk or in crisis."

More than three decades into her career, Frimer's paintings and murals can be found in galleries, synagogues, churches, retirement centres, hospitals, hospices, schools, transition houses, corporate offices, and public and private collections.

She has been very prolific but says it's been easy to create so much art because she feels she is merely a vessel for a strong creative force.

"It's like joy coming through me, rather than me making it happen."

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

DOCTOR OF LAWS

LUIGI AQUILINI

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT LUIGI AQUILINI BUILT AN EMPIRE BY EXAMPLE

Rags-to-riches stories often offer a glimpse into the highest level of human achievement.

Luigi Aquilini's tale might top them all.

Emigrating from his small Italian hometown, Luigi arrived in Canada penniless. Speaking little to no English and armed with nothing but a fifth-grade education, a strong back, and a determination to succeed, he set out to provide for his wife and establish a family.

Sixty years later he's one of Canada's most respected and accomplished billionaires — and the proud recipient of an honorary degree from the University of the Fraser Valley.

The family is well-known as the owners of the NHL Vancouver Canucks and Rogers Arena, and Luigi is deeply involved with philanthropic contributions and partnerships with First Nations communities, in land conservation, in agriculture (he is one of the largest blueberry and cranberry producers in the world), and in a multitude of other businesses, stretching from fish farms to vineyards, apiaries, dairy farms, and hotels.

Led by Luigi, the Aquilinis' business acumen is matched only by their philanthropy. They've given tens of millions of dollars to an array of worthy charitable foundations, ranging from B.C. Children's Hospital and Canuck Place Children's Hospice to Ducks Unlimited, the Salvation Army, and the MS Society.

None of it would be possible without Luigi's unparalleled work ethic.

At 83, he shows no signs of slowing down.

Aquilini implores the next generation of leaders to strive forward with purposeful intention.

"Always confront the problem. Don't avoid it. If you do, you create another problem. Always dream big — it's not impossible as long as you want it," he says.

The Aquilini business interests now provide employment for some 10,000 Canadians across the country, from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to Vancouver Island.

Luigi says that his proudest achievement is helping others by creating thousands of jobs that allow Canadians to support their families.

DOCTOR OF TECHNOLOGY

GEORGE W. PEARY

AFTER YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE,
GEORGE PEARY AWARDED HONORARY DEGREE FROM UFV

Decades of public service behind him, George Peary has a quip for every occasion, a story for every situation, and now an honorary degree from UFV recognizing a lifetime of community commitment.

“I’m an ordinary fellow who’s been given an extraordinary opportunity to serve,” he says.

“You make a living by what you get, but you make a life by what you give.”

Since arriving in Abbotsford 43 years ago, Peary’s impact has been beyond substantial. For 18 years, he served on municipal councils for the District of Matsqui and later the new City of Abbotsford, followed by a three-year term as school trustee before serving as Abbotsford’s mayor from 2008–11.

Quick wit and boyish mischievousness make Peary particularly popular in his latest role as principal of Dasmesh Punjabi School. Previously, he worked as vice principal at Abbotsford Senior Secondary, then principal of Maple Ridge Secondary, W.J. Mouat Secondary, Abbotsford Junior Secondary, and Yale Secondary.

As a secondary school administrator, Peary helped develop a new model of education at the Career Technical Centre (CTC). Working with UFV, Peary led the CTC to become the first school in Canada where high school students in trades and technical programs could earn university credits before graduating. Students learned from secondary teachers and university instructors working side by side in this pioneering approach.

In 2015, Peary was inducted into the Order of Abbotsford and named one the community’s Citizens of the Year.

Throughout it all, Peary has endeared himself to generations of families throughout Abbotsford.

His advice is simple.

“Have fun,” he says. “I think there’s enough misery in the world, so try to enjoy yourself and always be in a position to help others.”
